

Certifications

Written by Administrator

Monday, 11 April 2011 23:55 - Last Updated Tuesday, 12 April 2011 22:07

Kunal Spun Pipes is holding International Standard Organization ISO 9001:2008 Certification for quality management system. ISO 9001:2008 is accepted worldwide as the standard that defines quality. The certification indicates that an organization conforms to a quality management system, which can consistently provide a product or service that meets customer and applicable regulatory requirements.

The certification is a symbol of the excellent quality service Kunal Spun Pipes constantly strives for to serve its customers.

The certification also means Kunal Spun Pipes is committed to innovating on the way it serves its customers and greater efficiency in all its vital operating areas.